

Statement of Rights

K3C promotes equality, inclusion and the right to self-determination for persons with a developmental disability.

K3C believes that persons with a developmental disability have the same rights and access to choice, supports and services as all other people.

K3C believes that persons with a developmental disability have the same opportunities as others to live in freedom and dignity, and have the needed support to do so.

K3C believes that persons with a developmental disability are able to voice and realize their dreams and rights.

That means if you are our client, we believe you have the same rights as all other Canadians, regardless of your disability.

You have the right to:

Be safe in your home and in your community

Be treated respectfully wherever you go

Access services that will help you

Understand choices about what you want to do

Consult with others and gather the facts first

Make final decisions for yourself once you understand all the options

Make choices that reflect your likes and dislikes

Stand up for yourself

Have relationships with people you care about

Learn new things and grow

Dream about your future
